Co-Packing  Delivering the full package.
Increase flexibility, and streamline your operations

Through working together with leading global manufacturers, Kuehne + Nagel has developed a blueprint for the development of diverse co-packing solutions.

Shorter product lifecycles and unpredictable consumer behaviour are constant challenges to supply chains. The capability to react quickly and flexibly to unexpected changes in demand and process disruptions is key to optimising efficiency. Operational excellence is essential.

As an integrated part of our warehousing and inventory management solution, Kuehne + Nagel offers comprehensive co-packing services by developing tailor-made strategies for your finished products. We help you streamline your supply chain by implementing solutions that enhance your products’ value – and get them ready for pre-retail distribution.

We can also help you with the re-packing of products for special campaigns and promotions. Our experts can develop unique combinations for product launches and customise products for local markets – enabling you to rapidly respond to changing market conditions and optimise your inventory.

CO-PACKING
Comprehensive pre-retail solutions that include the packing and preparation of products in support of launches, marketing campaigns, promotions – as well as customisation for local market requirements.
